Download the latest LG USB drivers for Windows 10, 8, 7, Vista and XP. x, whether the new sentence is more severe than the original. 19 The Commission seeks to justify the district court's decision on the ground that Congress has not yet had an opportunity to review the Commission's actions. We think that this is a specious argument. It is the burden of the prisoner to comply with the criteria of the Act, not his ultimate adversary. It is the duty of the Commission to monitor the prisoner and insure that he does not escape his sentence. If it does not do so or fails to correct the defect, then the remedy lies with the Congress. Congress has provided that any prisoner "is entitled to a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with himself and with his counsel" (18 U.S.C. § 4208(b)). This consultation may reveal the existence of a constitutional defect in the original sentence. A prisoner has a right to be heard under the Act; he does not have a right to have any particular sentence imposed. A sentence which does not comply with the requirements of the Act is no sentence at all; it is an illegal sentence. 20 The sentence of the district court is vacated, and this case is remanded to the district court for resentencing in accordance with this opinion. * The Honorable John R. Bartels, Senior United States District Judge for the Eastern District of New York, sitting by designation 1 At the time of his original sentence, Flournoy was serving a two to five year sentence imposed in Ohio for robbery Will you change your business mobile phone plan soon?
