Fluffy Bastards Game Release Date:

- Fluffy Bastards is available in-game now, and will be offered to the General Public on Steam Beta from May 18th-26th 2018.

Fluffy Bastards Announcement:

On the Tentonhammer Forums, Henrik Fazekas Titera, Community Live Designer, posted the following announcement regarding a new, competitive PvP tournament relating to Frizzle Fry:

This December, there will be a new, team based racing "competition" game mode with both a local and online mode for Frizzle Fry. This special mode will be designed as a pure race event between teams of up to 7 players each. Team mates will be able to group up and work together to race towards the finish. It will be possible to both build and destroy strategically. Teams can play this mode in a local play match, or online in a virtual race event. For this mode, we will handpick a few of our favorite members of the community to represent our dev team, and handbuild them special exclusive masks to wear in this game mode. It will be exclusive for this tournament, so not everyone will have a chance to get it, but you can still download this product from the game store and have a chance to try this out.

If you are interested in participating in this new tournament, then please contact Henrik via our Community Forums.

The winning team (or teams) will win a Fussball Hammer that we will make exclusive for this tournament. It includes our standard hammer design which is exactly the same but also has a special additional functionality for our tournament mode. (Pricing TBD)
