The introduction of "HyperMotion Technology" and the creation of the game's next-generation locomotion engine, SimMotion, have been among the most significant developments in the game. A new "Team-Connected Social Hub" feature is now introduced in FIFA 20, which lets players connect and engage with their friends or fans in a way that hasn't been possible before. The feature is powered by EA SPORTS Football Club, the official football community of FIFA, and can be accessed via the latest official mobile app. The next-generation skill game, FIFA Ultimate Team, launches in FIFA 20, adding more new content and features to the FIFA Ultimate Team game modes. Additional modes include "League" mode, which lets players play in a season-style competition. To create true-to-life football matches, the game introduces brand new "Live Roster" mode, which lets fans join their favourite players in FIFA Ultimate Team matches. FIFA 20 Ultimate Team adds more powerful gameplay for players, and provides more fan-engaging content and features than ever before. FIFA Ultimate Team will be available to play on all major platforms. A variety of major changes to the gameplay mechanics in FIFA 19 have been made, making the game more responsive and more enjoyable to play. Additions to the gameplay balance in FIFA 19 have been made, with a more tactical and diverse player experience in the game. One of the biggest changes to football gameplay is FIFA 19 introducing "Player Intelligence." For the first time in a FIFA title, players are now given information on players' abilities, strengths, and weaknesses so they can choose more wisely when selecting the perfect match-up for their play styles.
