DESCRIPTION The year is 2128 and the Internet has died. With the discovery of a new virus called "Cable" all the people have lost their mind. In the city of Los Angeles, it is on par with hysteria with two factions: the "dark" controllers and the "superhuman" agents. Both are in the same dark side and ready to kill each other. In the middle of this war, a spaceship belonging to a mysterious faction lands on Earth and makes the lucky agents decide to be helpful instead of kill the people in the city. But they still don't understand why they are on Earth and they need to find out that before "Cable" takes over. The agents are given a number of modules by the other agents to complete puzzles inside rooms, until they find the source of the Cable. FEATURES - Creativity is always welcome. Try all kinds of solutions to solve the puzzle. Your success will be proportional to your imagination. - Solve puzzles and explore the city to get closer to the truth. - Meet a variety of characters, from its original creators to its enthusiasts. - You play as a human that wakes up to become a superhero, but in 2128 they are becoming rare. As such, he needs to be fast, agile and dedicated to start a new life. - 45 levels of puzzle. ABOUT We made it. After 3 years of hard work, we made a game. While the final release is really satisfying, we have been working on it for months before its release. We hope it was worth the wait and that you enjoyed our games. This is the sequel to the 2D-platformer (that was supposed to be released the week before but unfortunately didn't happen). We kept the same graphics but improved everything in the game. A first proper enemy that will give you more puzzle to solve. With more platformers we want to come up with more puzzles to keep the game enjoyable. , But I Do "You Don't Have Time, But I Do" is a song recorded by American singer Demi Lovato for her eponymous second studio album (2011). The song was written by Lovato and the English duo The Pennyseers. The track was released as the album's second promotional single on February 22, 2012. Musically, "You Don't Have Time, But I Do" incorporates elements of R&B. Upon its release, several critics commended its melodic and catchy production, stating that it captured the essence of soul music. "You Don't Have Time, But I Do" became Lovato's best-charting song on the Billboard Hot 100, where it peaked at number four and topped the Digital Songs chart. The song received a positive reception from music critics, who commended its "vocal prowess" and "gently seductive" intro. The song was performed at the 2012 Grammy Awards and American Music Awards. Recording and composition "You Don't Have Time, But I Do" was written by Demi Lovato and English duo The Pennyseers in Manhattan Beach, California. The pair's members, Martin Penny and Daniela Maria, have previously written multiple songs for pop artists, including Kylie Minogue, Miranda Kerr and Grace Mitchell. The song is sung in the first person and features prominent wistful vocals and a gentle, wordless melody. Since the song was released as the album's second promotional single, the song never officially appeared on any of Lovato's albums. A demo of the song was leaked to the Internet by a song posting website in September 2011. According to The New York Times, "You Don't Have Time, But I Do" is written in the key of C minor and set in the time signature of common time, with a tempo of 76 beats per minute. Lovato's vocal range in the song spans from G3 to E5. "You Don't Have Time, But I Do" is an uptempo soul track, it is divided into four vocal verses: a "wistful lead-in" runs into the chorus, and then the outro. Promotion and release "You Don't Have Time, But I Do" first premiered on Lovato's website on February 22, 2012. Lovato also included a 30-second preview of the song on her official Facebook and Twitter pages. Eight days later, on February 30,
