Death is inevitable. Being immortal, Drukandra had time to come up with a way to take advantage of that, and using his powerful abilities, he brought a form of Hell to the world. Beings who defied him and his laws were sentenced to the Underworld. However, one day a new, powerful being was sent down there for a battle to stop Drukandra and his followers. The lore tells that it took over 200 years until an axe was planted in his chest; but all that is a lie. The truth is simple; the only way to beat the God of the Dead is by killing his champion and this champion is none other than you. The real hero of war. He is the only hero who resists to the attack of Hell in hell and protects the earth. He is Musketeer the hero of hell. Even if you lost your fighting force, it will be returned to you. It is the only hero who fights and resoutes the evil attack which tries to destroy the world. After you take the adventure of Musketeer the hero of hell you can join the task force where you will be posted. At the end of the game you will be given the word. A: The title is not misleading, but it's not quite correct either. It's a shooting game, but the mechanics of the game are very different from Modern Warfare or the likes. In this game, you have a weapon that shoots in all directions, and has a max range. When the projectile reaches the max range it stops moving and you can walk around until the projectile stops moving. When the projectile stops moving it disappears, as if it was hit by something. Unlike other shooters where you could only avoid being hit when shooting around corners, this game has a point of view that resembles the 70's horror movie.. ie, you can not run away from the monster, all you can do is to anticipate it's shots and hide. A timer runs when the monster starts shooting and a counter also counts down. Whenever the monster shoots, the counter decreases. If the counter reaches zero, the monster will get a period of invincibility, and when the invincibility ends, he will get a period of invisibility. If you have a ranged weapon, the monster can shoot you too, unless you're in his invincibility period. Your character can move in four directions, and crouch to hide. You can also jump to reach higher places. You will be awarded for clearing stages and, if you're playing with a friend, you will have a level system (game play will reset when you reach a certain level), and you'll have to exchange parts of your character's armory when you're level changes. In exchange, you will get a permanent weapon at your new level. You can read more on the official website. The weapon upgrade/equipment exchange is quite different than just buying weapons and clothes.
