Q: SQL Server select by date comparison in a single select I am currently storing data in a table and am trying to select the data that have a current status of 'active'. I am currently using the following SQL: select * from messages where status = 'Active' But this will return all active data. If I want only the most recent date this is what I am using: select * from messages where status = 'Active' and id_status = 1 and date = (select max(date) from messages where id_status = 1) But this isn't a very nice solution since it's returning everything A: Select * From Messages Where id_status = 1 And CAST(date AS DATE) = (SELECT MAX(DATE) From Messages Where Id_status = 1) A: SELECT * FROM Messages WHERE status = 'Active' AND id_status = 1 AND CAST(date AS DATE) = (SELECT MAX(date) FROM Messages WHERE id_status = 1) Note the way I made sure id_
